Wake Astern

COMMANDER

Cdr Larry Warren, AP

As time races ever so fast towards the Holidays, it always reminds me of those days of my youth, early in December when the talk of Christmas was all a buzz in the house. With six kids that's a lot of talking and wondering. All of us thinking about the same thing, just what was old Santa going to bring. Oh, sure your thoughts on what you want are reaching the moon, but from the past, you know your wishes may not come true. You don't think about Santa fulfilling so many hopes in one house, no it's every kid for themselves. Meanwhile, the decorations are going up, and baking has started, and the anxiousness is building in the house with every day that goes by. My Mother loved Christmas and tried very hard to make everything special for us all. My Father wasn't a big fan. Looking back I can see why with six kids and a wife to buy gifts for. But he loved my Mom and us so, that he would put up with all the hoopla of the season. But I digress, of course, my parents would ask us all what we wanted

Santa to bring, and remember any of us writing to Santa we wanted. So, you better think hard getting what they wanted for you. Of course you could hope. The day the tree came into day itself. My Dad would put it up and had a bare spot, he would merely drill and insert it into the hole. This process enough. He would put the lights on. Ok, this is where it was hard for all of take a few days to apply the tinsel to down every branch and sub-branch on with the ornaments, but under strict kind of decoration on the same ment, anticipation and of course, the Big day would never get here. It did finally come of course, and I still remember one very special Christmas (they were all special) when all of us kids ran out into the living room to find a row of bikes of all sizes and one trike surrounding our tree. My Father and Mother had stayed up almost the whole night to assemble them all. Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukka, Feliz Navidad to you all and have a HappyNew Year!

that was your big chance because I can't or going to see him and let him know what about what you wanted or run the risk of course, that happened anyway, but you the house was almost as special as the big make all the adjustments. Like if the tree a hole and whittle down another branch would continue until he felt it looked good next and hand over the tree to my Mom. us kids, as my Mother would sometimes the tree, meticulously draping each piece the tree. When she finished, we could help supervision, you could not put the same branch. Those days were full of excitement—that's when days seemed like weeks and

So, Thanksgiving is only days away and Christmas is only a few weeks later. Whiter weather is already in vast abundance. If you enjoy winter boating, be aware that storms and squalls can materialize at a moment's notice. So be mindful of all the debris floating on top and below the water just waiting for a boat to run into. As far as I know, they still have not invented a radar system to detect such hazards.

We haven't had our boat out since Labor Day weekend, but I know it is time for some winter maintenance: changing engine motor oil, topping off the fuel tanks, checking all hoses and tightening all the hose clamps, just to mention a few.

Don't forget to post your calendar for two special events. First is the Tacoma Power Squadron's Christmas Brunch on Sunday, December 3rd at Tacoma Yacht Club, and second is our annual Cruise-In at Point Ruston on Saturday, January 20th, 2018. This year's event will take place at the Century Apartment's Party Room. See details below.

Century Apartments at Point Ruston Cruise-In

January 20th, 2018

P/C Jackie Mattox, AP

The Century Apartments Cruise-In will be happening On January 20th, 2018. The party room at Century Apartments is reserved from 1430 until 2100 with a great full kitchen. Because there is limited seating, you might want to bring a folding chair. We'll start out with appetizers until our meal at 1800. The theme for our dinner will be soups, stews, and chilies, along with salads, bread, and desserts. The Squadron will provide bowls, plates, utensils, cups, and coffee. Please decide what you would like to bring and email or call Jackie Mattox or Cindy Warren. If you come early take a stroll along the Water Walk Esplanade, visit the Asarco Copper Smelter Museum, or take in a movie. There are also numerous restaurants such as Two Town Café, Wild Fin, Stack 571 Burger and Whiskey Bar, The Jewel Box, Dulce Si Italian Bakery and Café, and Farrelli's Pizza.

When you arrive please call Jackie's cell phone 253-732-2264 so we can let you in.

If you are planning to attend, please call or e-mail Cindy & Larry Warren, 360-897-8692, c.m.warren-7@hotmail.com or Jackie & Richard Mattox, 253-581-1732, or ricgeezers@comcast.net.

Asst. Education Officer*

The Seamanship Class got underway at Tacoma Yacht Club starting October 19th with 12 students in attendance, a number of which are T.Y.C. members. Tacoma Yacht Club's Commodore Jim Martinek kicked things off by instructing the first chapter of the course, and did a great job! Stf/C Jim Harden instructed chapter 2, yours truly SEO -Otto did 3, P/C Mitch Carrol and Sandi covered 4, P/C Andy Temple did #5, and Jim Harden, Otto and Andy Temple will complete the course instruction and review. The exam will be on December 14th. We miss P/C Lance Williamson doing the Seamanship Class, but work commitments that you get paid for come first. The Tacoma Yacht Club meeting room has worked well for instructing the class. I look forward to using this facility in the future.

We are looking at a Weather Class starting in late January of 2018 by Lt/C Stan Wolfe. The exact date and location will be announced as soon as we can get all our ducks in a row with the students, facilities, and Stan.

We could use some volunteers willing to go out with skippers that are desirous for on the water demonstration of various aspects of boat handling. We are getting requests for this activity. If you would be willing to help out, please let me know so we can assist these skippers. I can fill you in on the details.

Following the holidays we will have the Seattle Boat Show, which is always a good time to plan an ABC Basic Class, as well as setting up courses our members are interested in taking. I keep track of requests from members for various subjects they would like to study. Please let me know your interests, so we can put some classes together.
